Connecting with your child can be challenging regardless of how long you have been home.

Transitioning between military and civilian life can create challenges for parents. This free online course can help! It teaches you tools and strategies to help your family stay strong and connected after a deployment or anytime.

www.VeteranTraining.va.gov/parenting